BUSINESS IS BETTER

But Traveling Salesmen Must Work Hard

TO SELL AMERICAN CROCKERY

The Threatened Reduction in Trenton Seems to Have Died Abominably. There Will Be No Cut Just Now—Orders Are Coming in and Ware Going Out.

If the manufacturing potters of America could have the business forever which they now enjoy, they would not object, but they cannot help thinking of the future.

The potters in this city are turning out vast quantities of ware every week. Some departments are working day and night, and still the orders are coming in. It is true that this rush is caused by the fact that there was little domestic ware in the country when the strike ended, and there must be some source from which the supply is to come. Salesmen traveling for firms in this city are working with a will, and hustling as they never hustled before. They realize that they must work for orders if they would compete with the importing houses. Some have lost big customers, but they attempt to fill in by securing a number of smaller ones, and thus keep their trade as near an average as possible.

The policy of getting as much trade as possible before the importers can reach every corner of the country is being followed by the manufacturers, and one of the best informed in the city says that the cut in compact price will have some effect in aiding them to continue in trade for the present. Other potters in the country are feeling the same impetus, Steubenville, Cumberland, Wheeling and Evansville making ware as fast as possible. Regardless of political belief there are thousands of people in the city who sincerely hope that there will be no cessation of business, and that orders will flood every pottery office in town. A report from New York says:

"The rain has been pouring down for three days of this week, which has rather effectually stifled business all around, both with the jobbers and the retailers, indeed two day were such that it was impossible to be out. A fall of over five inches in one day broke all rain records here and broke the gentle little boomlet in business as well. However, things will adjust themselves after awhile and we will trust that the crockery, glass and lamp trade will be like the drygoods business, where for the past month it has been necessary to work days and night to get out the rapidly accumulating orders. However, the general trade seem to be satisfied with themselves, for they have been dissatisfied so long that anything is better than nothing, and to have a big rush of trade all at once would knock us out. We would not know what to do with it. At least that's what one of the importers said the other day, but its more than likely he would make a try at it, if it only came that way."

A correspondent writing to a trade paper from Trenton remarks: "Corroboratively, I may mention that in our own business trade is improving. I talked on Friday with one of the oldest drummers in the crockery trade, who has just come home from a trip in the South, and he assured me that he had sold more goods than on any trip he had made through the same territory in all his experience. He was very enthusiastic and remained home but a few days. When I saw him he was on his way to the station to go over the same ground, on which he expects to duplicate business of the past six weeks. Nothing more has been heard of the wage question and it has doubtless been put away until it is sure what congress is going to do. Everybody is at work for the present, and it is sincerely to be hoped that this condition will continue."

ALMOST DONE.

Packets Can No Longer Navigate Between Here and Cincinnati.

Business with the packets on the Ohio river between here and Cincinnati is almost done. When the wickets are let down at Beaver dam the boats will stop.

The river is still falling and there is only about three feet of water in the shallow places at present. Rivermen are downcast as they have just gotten a good start, and business with them was beginning to boom as in the olden time. The rise as termed by one riverman is peculiar, because it was the first time he ever knew of coal being taken out on the Ohio when there was not enough water in the Kanawha to do the same kind of work. The Bedford passed up last night for Pittsburgh with a good trip of miscellaneous freight. She took on a number of casks of ware here.

The Highland Mary, one of the newest steamboats that traverses the stream, passed up at 2 o'clock yesterday from Zanesville, with a good trip. She left a moving from Steubenville and some miscellaneous freight here and took on a good shipment.

The Lizzie Bay went down at noon yesterday with a big cargo of freight. She took on 50 packages of ware here. The Highland Mary is due down for Zanesville tonight, instead of tomorrow night, owing to low water, which might prevent her leaving if she waited until the time intended. For the same reason the Bedford will be down tonight for Cincinnati instead of Wheeling.

WELLSVILLE RACES.

Many Good Entries For the Bicycle Events of Oct. 2.

The bicycle races in Wellsville on Oct. 2 are attracting a great deal of attention and will doubtless be witnessed by a great crowd. The entries include some fine wheelmen, and make the following list:

A. I. Brown, Cleveland; J. P. Bliss, Chicago; A. L. Banker, Pittsburgh; E. Johnson, Cleveland; O. E. Lunsden, Chicago; L. C. Johnson, Cleveland; L. D. Stamp, Wheeling; Thomas Cooper, Detroit.

W. C. Sanger, the noted rider, wired the management this morning to enter him in all the events of class B.

One Firm Obstacle.

The New Lisbon ball club has been very successful this season, and won a game from every club they met but the Young Men's Christian association players of this city. The local team gave them a good thrashing on the diamond, and can do it on almost any occasion when the county seat desires to have the experiment repeated. The Lisbon boys can play ball when they are pitted against clubs not accustomed to gathering themselves together when it becomes necessary in order to win.

Mourning Their Money.

Several persons in the city have received word from an insurance company in which their money was invested that it had ceased to exist, and was no longer in condition to pay any demands upon its treasurer. The concern was located in New York and the victims was so unfortunate as to send money as late as a few days ago, after the assignment had been made. One well known man was in it to the extent of several hundred dollars, and another loses $100.

The Mechanics Again.

The two ball clubs made up of members of the Senior and Junior Mechanics still have the base ball fever, and if circumstances do not intervene will play a game on the West End ground tomorrow afternoon. The only expressed fear is that the Coxey circus will be on the grounds, and the commonwealer may decide that base ball and politics do not mix.

SUED BY LAWYER SMITH

The Street Railway Company Again in Court.

ONLY TWO THOUSAND DOLLARS

Wanted by the Plaintiff His Claim Based on the Construction of the Road When Some Dirt Was Moved—Other Cases Brought to Light at the County Seat.

New Lisbon, Sept. 27.—The East Liverpool & Wellsville Street Railway company, A. L. Johnson, S. H. Short and C. E. Grover, were made defendants in another damage suit this morning, in which Attorney P. M. Smith, of Wellsville, is plaintiff. Irreparable damage to land of his, lying along the railway between East Liverpool and Wellsville, causing it to continually move in the direction in which the land slopes, basis his claim for $2,000 damages. The land, which adjoins the public road, was valuable, being well suited for building purposes. In constructing this railway the defendants widened the road by removing from six to 15 feet of this land for a distance of about 600 feet without any permission whatever, and failing to provide any support for the earth so cut away, it has since crumbled and continues to slide down on the road below. As this has damaged the land considerably and can only be attributed to their negligence and carelessness, he wants damages for this amount and costs of action.

The judgment given last month by Squire Travis, East Liverpool, for $227.41, in the case of W. E. Cooper & Co. against H. S. Rinehart, was brought to common pleas today for trial by Rinehart. The plaintiffs based their claim on an account for a bill of goods which they had sold to Rinehart.

The licenses for marriage issued today were for Charles E. Rentz and Miss Dora A. Richey, Salem; Albert H. Garry and Miss Olive C. Simons, Salem; Robert B. Wright and Miss Ella Bella Wallace, and Aniel Wuthret and Elizabeth Steffan.

The petition of Thomas Milton, guardian of Ray Milton and others, to the probate court for authority to lease lands belonging to his wards for mining coal was heard by Judge Young today and H. J. Fraiser, Henry Roberts and E. Greenamyer appointed to view the land and report to the court their opinion as to it containing the coal and decide upon the term of the lease. The order of private sale for the property in the case of Levi King, administrator, versus Mary L. Miller and others was set aside and an order of public sale issued.

A Pretty Wedding.

On Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of Rev. J. C. Taggart, East Market street, the words were said which joined in marriage Mr. Andrew E. McLean and Miss Rebecca A. Hart.

Rev. J. C. Taggart, assisted by Rev. A. K. Knox and Rev. J. L. Acheson, performed the ceremony in the presence of a number of invited guests. The happy couple left for a honeymoon trip to Philadelphia, the seacoast and Washington City.

Breaking the Record.

The packers and decorators at the West End pottery are doing nothing today because of the scarcity of ware. The factory is being pushed to its best capacity to provide ware for the trade and a wonderful record was made last week. Three gloss and two biscuit kilns were fired in the week which means plenty of work when it is known that the pottery only has three kilns. The management is proud of the record, and only hopes trade will permit them to keep it up.

A Word For the Defendant.

A friend of Harrison, the man who will figure in the next term of court in a divorce suit recently filed from this city, asked today that statement be made that there was some other cause for the trouble than those found in the petition, and it would all come out in court. The gentleman, who by the way is a prominent citizen, said that he had known the defendant for a long time, and always looked upon him as anything but a bad man.

Gone to the Wall.

A mortgage held by E. D. Marshall against Frank Hamilton, of Second street, was foreclosed today, and the saloonist's household goods will be sold. Officer Wyman will dispose of the goods at auction on Friday of next week.

Soon to Be Married.

The marriage banns of Michael Broderick, of this city, and Miss Margaret Sweeney, of East Liverpool, were announced last Sunday in the Immaculate Conception church. Mr. Broderick is one of our steadiest and most reliable young men, and it is with pleasure that we hear of his approaching marriage to such an estimable young lady as Miss Sweeney. The marriage will occur some time next month.—Wellsville Union.

Can This Be True?

A special from Columbiana to the Cleveland Leader says:

"General Coxey's brass band, which has been traveling with him during the campaign, deserted him in this city today. Coxey has been giving the band boys sleeping quarters under the canvases and feeding them on hard tack. Today they demanded hotel diet and sleeping accommodations. Coxey would not accede to their demands, and hence the desertion."

They Retired.

Coxey, with his aggregation, was at Leetonia the other evening, and the Reporter, in mentioning the matter, says that there was a goodly audience present, but the "intense cold compelled many to retire before the close." The statement will be received as it is given. Everyone knows how cold it has been. It is well that the Coxey forces take comfort from some source.

May Enter the Races.

It is rumored that several of the best known East Liverpool wheelmen will enter the races at Wellsville next week. One of the most prominent cyclists was seen last night and stated that so far as he was concerned he had no intention of bucking against men now listed for contests. He further said he had not heard of any local riders being entered.

Lost His Arm.

Mrs. George Perry, of West Market street, received word from Sharpsburg, Pa., that her nephew, Maurice Armstrong, had been struck by a train, and had both arms cut off. The youngster is but nine years old and when the telegram was sent the friends did not expect him to survive. The lady took the afternoon train for Sharpsburg.

Thought It Was Mad.

Considerable excitement was created among residents of Fourth street last night by the appearance of a dog which showed signs of being mad. Several people made hasty retreat into their houses in fear and trembling. Finally the owner came along and the animal was taken home.

Arranging a Schedule.

The coopers and their employers will meet tonight in the Gaston building to arrange a scale of prices that will govern all over the city. It is asserted that the rates have not been regular in different shops in town, and it is the purpose of the meeting to put all on an equal basis.

Threatened With Fever.

Mrs. Hays, a respected widow lady residing on Kossuth street, is confined to her home very ill. She is threatened with the fever.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—John S. Williams, of Cleveland, was a city visitor today.

—William Houser, of Bridgewater, was calling on friends here today.

—E. A. Standen, traveler for Wallace & Chetwynd, is in town for a few days' rest.

—Miss Margaret Geon has secured a position in a large dry goods store in Pittsburgh.

AFTER JOSEPH HANCOCK

Inquiry Comes from Over the Sea.

WAS HERE OVER FORTY YEARS

According to George Williams, the Englishman, Who Wants to Know Whether He Is Dead or Alive—A Letter from Stoke-on-Trent.

If anyone in this city knows whether Joseph Hancock, a former resident, is dead or alive, he will confer a favor upon George Williams, No 16 Wealdon road, Stoke-on-Trent, Staffordshire, England.

J. M. Kelley today received a letter bearing the postmark of Stoke-on-Trent and addressed to "The register of the cemetery, E. Lpool, Ohio, America. The writer is George Williams, and he is search for Joseph Hancock, a modeler employed in the pottery trade. He says that Hancock resided here for over 40 years, and he wants to know whether he is dead or alive. The writer does not tell when he last heard of him, nor does he state whether Hancock left the city or has lived here since coming to the country. The peculiar manner in which the envelope is addressed shows that Uncle Sam's servants have heard of East Liverpool, as the one who wrote the superscription failed to spell out the first syllable of the last word, evidently thinking that the simple abbreviation "Lpool" was enough to find the city. If there are persons in the city who knew Joseph Hancock they will probably do Mr. Williams a good turn by sending him the information.

A Suit for Damages.

The case of Howard C. Walters versus Constable Dick Albright is being tried before Squire Rose and to a jury at the city hall this afternoon. The jury is composed of John Kerr, H. W. Adams, A. J. Moon, E. M. Crosser, Richard Thomas and Thomas Blackmore, Sr. On September 13 the goods of Joseph Walters were levied upon by Constable Albright on the execution in favor of L. C. Groves & Company, but were replevined by the plaintiff in this case. He now thinks he is entitled to damages for the time during which the goods were in the possession of the constable and bought suit accordingly. H. E. Grosshans is the defendant's attorney.

No Pay, No Shave.

At the meeting of barbers last evening it was decided to formulate a dead-head list, and the men who will not pay will be soon so well known that they can not be shaved in any establishment in the city. There are a great many persons indebted to barbers who are liquidating their obligation a little each week, and they of course will not be included. It is only the professionals, those who would rather beat the barber than pay their bills, who will be included. The barbers also decided to meet every two weeks. It is the purpose of the barbers to have the list prepared and in effect by the first of next month.

Many Witnesses.

A large number of witnesses have been summoned to appear before the grand jury, and it is thought that the body will have any quantity of work. There are a number of important cases to be considered, and the lower part of the county will be well represented.

In the Fight Next Spring.

Although the next county primaries are a far way in the future candidates are already springing up and preparing to make the race. This city will have its quota made up of several candidates, although so far as could be learned there will not be two for the same place.

Was Judging Chickens.

J. T. McBrier, a former resident of West End, but now living at Gayly, Pa., was in town today on a visit. He has been attending the Beaver fair where he acted as a judge in the poultry department. He says there were some fine chickens at the fair.

Alvin Joslin.

All the special scenery used in the production of "Alvin Joslin" by Chas. L. Davis, was especially built for this last tour at the magnificent theater which Mr. Davis owns in Pittsburgh.

A Wedding.

Cards are out announcing that on Oct. 12 at the Asbury chapel, Mr. Walter Allison, of Grant district, W. Va., and Miss Ruth Rigdon, of Beaver county, will be united in marriage.

One More.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald, Jackson street, a daughter.

EUROPEAN factories are reaping the benefit of American ability to buy manufactured articles.

THE speech of Governor McKinley yesterday was the honest arraignment of a dishonest principle.

DEMOCRACY is all at sea on the money question. Even the faithful of this district scarcely know what to think.

WHEN Brice and his barrel begin work next spring there will be a prodigious amount of Democratic activity.

OHIO Republicans will go to the polls in November, and say with their ballots what they have so often said with their tongues.

THE London chamber of commerce banqueted Professor Wilson the other evening. These English business men know how to treat their friends.

THE sickening slush dished out by some of the Democratic newspapers of this county as campaign argument seems the very carrion of illegitimate politics.

SECRETARY Carlisle has a playful practice of dismissing old soldiers from the treasury department and substituting young Democrats who can work at the polls. Honorable move that.

THE Democratic leaders of the county are aching to get their hands into the county treasury, and if the stories they tell can be taken as an evidence of good faith they are not particular about the means they use in reaching the goal.

WHEN David B. Hill, astute politician that he is, discovers that Mr. Morton will be the next governor of New York, he will feel like hiring the Democratic mule to kick him out of the state. If he cannot be governor he can never hope to be president.

THE Columbus Journal talks sense when it says that there is a missing link in the Democratic campaign this year. We don't hear anything about alleged Republicans who propose voting the Democratic ticket. Even the Democrats themselves won't do that.

THE BATTLE IS ON.

When William McKinley delivered that masterly oration at Findlay yesterday the campaign was opened, and once again the Republicans have taken up arms against the fallacies of Democratic argument. The enthusiastic beginning is an indication of a glorious ending. Thousands were there to cheer the great American, and renew their allegiance to the cause of protection. Their open admiration not only proved their faith to the party, but showed that McKinley is the idol of Ohio, and will receive its strong support when the next presidential candidate is chosen.

The campaign being opened it remains for every man who would be prosperous and desires to repudiate the calamities of the past year to stand for the right. Send men to congress who will make themselves heard in the cause of the people, and will battle for the old time Republican prosperity. The battle is on, and if the good citizens who want good government stand together Ohio will be represented in the next congress by men who will have its interests at heart, and will legislate for what its people most need.

AN ARBITRATION PLAN

Government Commission Likely to Recommend One.

DIFFICULT PROBLEM TO SOLVE.

A Commissioner Says It Is Worse Than the Late Civil War Question—Strong Report to Be Made—Adjourned to the Last Week in October.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The United States commission appointed to investigate the Chicago strike, after two days' executive session for the purpose of discussing and deciding on the nature of the report to be submitted to the president, has adjourned until the last week in October. The commission was able to harmonize such differences of opinion as existed, and there will be no minority report. The report will be a vigorous document, so one of the members of the commission says, and will, after summarizing the facts as set forth in the testimony and discussing at considerable length the scheme suggested for adjusting and avoiding differences between labor and capital, give its conclusions. These conclusions the commission have decided not to make public. It would, they say, be discourteous to the president to do so.

CARROLL D. WRIGHT.
JOHN D. KEISAN. N. E. WORTHINGTON.

"The solution of the problem with which we are to deal," said one of the commissioners, "is a more difficult one than that of the civil war. There the government knew what it had to do—meet force with force. This problem is beset with all the perplexities that surround the rights of capital and of personal liberty. We have had the experience of other countries to guide us. The report will discuss the question in all its phases and I think offer something practical, although of course any legislation must be tentative."

It is believed that the report will lay special stress on arbitration and will offer a general scheme of arbitration for the settlement of future difficulties.

Shortridge Declared Not Guilty.

MEDIA, Pa., Sept. 28.—The jury in the Shortridge case, after deliberating an hour and a half, returned with a verdict of "not guilty." The members of the jury announced that they based their verdict upon the ground that the defendant was insane at the time of the commission of the crime. Prof. Shortridge will be taken back to the insane asylum at Norristown, where he has been confined since the unfortunate affair which led to the trial which has just ended. The verdict is a very popular one here, and there are strong hopes that the unfortunate man may ultimately recover his reason.

Debs Case Arguments.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—Assistant District Attorney Rosenthal closed the arguments for the government in the Debs case. He was followed by S. S. Gregory for the defense. Mr. Gregory contended that workmen have a right to strike, based on the constitution, and that any interested party has a like right to order a strike. The attorney declared that the United States court injunctions against Debs were void and that no one can be punished for refusing to obey a void injunction.

Little Damage by the Storm.

SAVANNAH, Sept. 28.—Railroad men who are just up from Tybee island say that only a small portion of the railway has been washed up. The damage will not exceed $1,000. The windmill of the Tybee Water company and the light-house were rocked to and fro. The maximum velocity of the wind at Tybee was 65 miles an hour. No loss of life or property has been reported and the bridges are apparently all secure.

NOTABLE MEN SPOKE.

A Big Meeting Follows the McKinley Demonstration at Findlay.

FINDLAY, O., Sept. 28.—The big meeting, when Governor McKinley opened the Ohio campaign, was followed by a display of fireworks. Addresses were made by Hon. J. B. Woodmansee of Cincinnati, president of the Ohio Republican league; Hon. Samuel Taylor, secretary of state; Judge J. H. Doyle of Toledo, Hon. Charles Foster, ex-secretary of the treasury, and Hon. E. W. Poe, state auditor.

Governor McKinley came upon a special train from Columbus, which brought several hundred of the capital city's Republicans, and with him were Hon. S. M. Taylor, secretary of state, who, as a candidate for re-election, heads the state ticket this year, and a number of other leading state officials. They were met at the depot by G. A. R. veterans and local clubs, who formed an escort that accompanied the visitors to the hotels.

For the inspection of the crowds lining the streets the paraders help up pictures of the governor with "McKinley for President in 1899" conspicuously inscribed. These were multiplied many times, not only in the parade but in the windows and decorations in the dwellings, indicating very clearly the general wish and purpose of Ohio Republicans.

The speaking was from a stage erected on the campus of Findlay college, a mile from the center of town. Hon. Thomas McConica, a member of the state senate from Findlay, presided and performed the usual functions, introducing Governor McKinley in a few apt words. The governor's speech was received with tremendous applause.

Two Congressional Nominations.
CINCINNATI, Sept. 28.—The Republicans of the first congressional district nominated Charles P. Taft to succeed Belamy Storor. In the second district Jacob H. Bromwell was nominated to succeed Mayor Caldwell. Mr. Taft has been state senator, but has devoted his life mostly to journalism. He is the proprietor of the Cincinnati Times-Star and was for years vice president of the Associated Press. Ex-Governor Foraker presided over the county convention that was held after the district conventions.

Adopted by an Heiress.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—Allen C. Wilde, of the firm of James H. Wilde & Co., well-known merchants of this city, has been adopted by the widow of the late Prof. Garrison of Chicago. Mrs. Garrison, before her marriage, was Lady Mary Berry of England and heiress to extensive estates there.

All Polygamists Pardoned.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The president has issued a proclamation granting full amnesty and pardon to all the citizens of Utah and others who have violated the Edmunds act against polygamy.

MADE CORBETT LAUGH.

Amused at Fitzsimmons' Proposition. O'Donnell Will Fight Him.

LEWISTON, Me., Sept. 28.—Champion James J. Corbett, who appeared here in "Gentleman Jack," was first made acquainted with the fact that Fitzsimmons had published a formal challenge to fight him by your representative before the performance.

The champion read the letter aloud to Steve O'Donnell, and when he came to the place where the middle-weight pledged himself to not attempt a knockout, in the proposed New York exhibition, he roared with laughter. "Well, Steve, what do you think of that?" said Corbett, while O'Donnell smiled.

After he had finished reading the challenge Corbett turned and said: "Of course I expected Fitz would do something of this sort, but he is too ambitious. I will attend to him, however, when the proper time comes and will answer his letter in a few days."

"I don't propose to fight him," continued the champion, "until he has defeated some one worth mentioning. What's the use of my fighting a middle-weight when there are plenty of men who can do him easily. He wants to skip over all the other heavyweights and tackle me."

"That's right, too, Jim," interposed Steve O'Donnell. "I'll fight him and take him any way he likes."

A New Orleans dispatch says: As Corbett wired that Fitzsimmons must defeat O'Donnell before he would meet the middle-weight, President Scholl of the Olympic club will wait three days for a reply, and if the same does not materialize he will call a meeting of the board and a manifesto will be issued giving Corbett a reasonable length of time to reply. Should he fail to agree to a meeting with Fitzsimmons the club will announce the latter as heavyweight champion of the world.

THEIR HEADS DOOMED

Chinese Naval Officers In a Terrible Stew.

CALLING EACH OTHER COWARDS.

Trying to Shift the Responsibility of the Recent Defeat on One Another—Captain Fong Already Condemned—Commanders Said to Have Sold Ammunition.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 28.—The Chinese naval officers now at Port Arthur and Tien Tsin, are squabbling among themselves as to the responsibility of the terrible Chinese losses in the naval battle off the Yalu. A court of inquiry is sitting, and has already found Captain Fong of the warship Tsi Yuen guilty of cowardice in the face of the enemy. He was condemned to be beheaded, and it is believed that other officers will lose their heads.

A telegram from the Kung Taotai at Port Arthur received by the commandant at Wei Hai Wei positively accuses the commander of the Chen Yuen of taking flight with his vessel before the battle at the first sight of the enemy's smoke. Admiral Ting, who remains at Port Arthur, has also telegraphed to Wei Hai Wei making grave charges against some of his officers. The admiral declares that the Ping Yuen, the Kwang Ting and the Chin Chung, together with four torpedo boats, were up the Yalu river when the battle commenced. There they remained until the fighting was over. They then sneaked out and made for Port Arthur.

Two of these torpedo boats, however, are said to be still missing.

A London dispatch says that the Pall Mall Gazette publishes a letter from Shanghai saying that the Chinese navy cannot fight because the ships have only about 12 rounds of ammunition per ship, the regular supply of ammunition having been sold, according to the Pall Mall Gazette's correspondent, by the captains of the Chinese warships.

The correspondent adds that one of these commanders actually sold one of his ship's Armstrong guns and went to sea one gun short.

Brayton Ives Opposed It.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 28.—Something of a sensation developed in the United States court when the Northern Pacific receivers' motion for an authority to issue new certificates came on for a hearing. It transpired that instead of wanting $2,000,000 for the purpose of refunding the receivers' certificates that fall due on Oct. 1, the receivers wanted to issue new certificates to the amount of $5,000,000, and instead of being an amicable arrangement as the country had been led to suppose there was bitter opposition to it on the part of Brayton Ives and his associates.

Schooner and Crew Goes Down.

MANISTIQUE, Mich., Sept. 28.—The schooner William Home, consort of the steamer F. R. Buell, sank off Seul Choix point during the heavy southeast gale. #### Hill Not Ready to Talk.

HIS SWEET REVENGE.

Kicked Out When a Boy, He Lived to Repay the Offender.

A story with a moral is told me by a friend from Bloomington, Ind. That pretty little university town numbers among its notabilities not only the college professors, but another professor also, whose accomplishment lies not in the direction of human education. I mean genial Henry Gentry, known wherever there are little and big children, who like to see his performing dogs and ponies. Professor Gentry was a very poor boy, which was no dishonor, but still much against him in the race of life. During the last few years he has made a fortune. I am afraid to say how much, but it must be up in the hundred thousands. Ten years ago he was still struggling to make a living for himself and his parents, and very often it was hard enough. And thereby hangs my tale.

Every one knows how difficult it was for business men to keep heads above water during the hard times and what a serious matter it was to obtain money, but Gentry had plenty of it all through and is said to have helped more than one man over the stepping stones.

One day a very prominent business man of his own was caught short and needed $5,000 to see him through. He had property and values, but no money. He went to the bank and asked for a loan, but was suavely told that the bank had it not. Just as the conversation was going on Henry Gentry happened to pass the bank, and the banker remarked, "There's only one man in town who has that much cash, and maybe he'll lend it to you." He pointed to Gentry.

The business man took the hint, stepped out of the bank, caught up with Gentry, and after a very complimentary talk on his success broached his request. Gentry turned full upon him and replied: "Oh, yes, I have $5,000; more too, but do you remember a barefoot lad who came into your store at one time trying to buy a pair of shoes on trust? Do you remember how you kicked him almost out of your store? Well, I was that boy. No, you can't have no money from me!" Maybe it was not very Christian, but it must have been awfully sweet revenge.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

New Use For a Parrot.

The talents of parrots have, we read, just been turned in a new direction by the authorities of a French town. It has hitherto been the habit to more or less fritter away the intellectual force of parrots by merely teaching them to say naughty or witty things, or to use such expressions as "Pretty Poll" or "Poor fellow." The municipal authorities of the town referred to have, perhaps the future will prove, opened up a wider field of action for the parrot. The poor box at the town hall, it seems, had for a long time past been in a condition of chronic emptiness, which did not reflect much credit on the charitable feelings of the inhabitants. To remind them of their duty toward their poorer neighbors a parrot was purchased, which has been installed close to the box and trained to cry, "For the poor, if you please." It appears that the result of the innovation has been highly satisfactory, pence and silver coins having been freely given in response to the bird's appeal. The idea, as is remarked, is capable of being applied in a variety of ways. To denote to the passerby that he is in the proximity of wet paint on any shop front, parrots might be used, or to remind people on entering a house to wipe their feet on the door mat before going up stairs the bird's services could be employed, instead of the time honored placard, "Essuyez vos pieds, s. v. p." to be met with in French houses. In fact, there may be a new opening for parrots.—London Standard.

He Was Fed.

That old motto, "Where there is a will there is a way," though now a little out of fashion, perhaps, and somewhat exaggerated, as is the case with mothers in general, is still expressive of a truth.

Writing of old times at White Sulphur springs, General Maury says there were many complaints of the fare at the hotel. The dignified proprietor used to console his guests by remarking that they really paid nothing for their dinners, but only for the wonderful sulphur water which he had discovered.

One day in the height of the season, when the crowd was great and the service scanty, the people in the dining room were startled by heartrending cries of "Murder, murder!" Steward and servants rushed to the victim, who, in answer to their eager inquiries, informed them that he could get nothing to eat and was dying of starvation.

That young man was served well and promptly as long as he remained.—Youth's Companion.

One Good Board of Health.

Visitor—You must have a remarkably efficient board of health in this town. Shrewd Native (one of many)—You are right about that, I can tell you. "Composed of scientists, I presume?" "No, sir. Scientists are too theoretical." "Physicians, perhaps?" "Not much. We don't allow doctors on our board of health—no, sir, nor undertakers either." "Hum! What sort of men have you chosen, then?" "Life insurance agents."—New York Weekly.

Mme. Couvreur.

Mme. Couvreur, who has succeeded her late husband as the London Times' representative in the Belgium capital, is best known to the public as Tasma, the novelist. Of Dutch family, she was born in Highgate and was brought up in Tasmania; hence her nom de plume. She first made her name in Europe as a lecturer on emigration in the principal towns of France.

In China young blood may go out and have a frolic at a cost of about 1 cent for the night's fun.

A Big Day.

The picnic given by the Mechanics at Mehan grove yesterday was a thoroughly enjoyable affair, an immense crowd being in attendance. Many were present from this city.

Gone to College.

Alex Steele, Albert Steele, Charley Bowman and Harry Hall left this morning for Adrian, Mich., where they will attend the college.

While in Chicago, Mr. Charles L. Kahler, a prominent shoe merchant of Des Moines, Iowa, had quite a serious time of it. He took such a severe cold that he could hardly talk or navigate, but the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough remedy cured him of his cold so quickly that others at the hotel who had bad colds followed his example and half a dozen persons ordered it from the nearest drug store. They were profuse in their thanks to Mr. Kahler for telling them how to cure a bad cold so quickly. For sale by A. H. Bulger, Druggist.

Irving W. Larimore, physical director of Young Men's Christian association Des Moines, Iowa, says he can conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm to athletes, gymnasts, bicyclists, foot ball players and the profession in general for bruises, sprains and dislocations; also for soreness and stiffness of the muscles. When applied before the parts become swollen it will effect a cure in one half the time usually required. For sale by A. H. Bulger, Druggist.

A. M. Bailey, a well known citizen of Eugene, Oregon, says his wife has for years been troubled with chronic diarrhoea and used many remedies with little relief until she tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy, which has cured her sound and well. Give it a trial and you will be surprised at the prompt relief it affords. Twenty-five and 50 cents a bottle for sale by A. H. Bulger, Druggist.
